Our new ADF SEARCH is the Australian Drug Foundation's online solution for the discovery and delivery of information on alcohol and drugs including reports, books, journal articles and more. ADF SEARCH includes content from a range of collections and sources, including full text journals and online databases. Most material is free to browse, or join the ADF for your logon and password for access to full text. We can also help members obtain material that is not immediately available – just email us or phone 1300 85 85 84.

Start searching, have a look at the 4000+ journals on offer in the e-journals A-Z, or try one of the popular searches below.
